Description of teaching content:

Overview

This course was created to grant international students' insight into the responsibilities incumbent to high level decision making. With theoretical learning and practical applications, it is designed to prepare business students for the ethical dimensions of careers in middle or upper management.

Students are called upon to set their own learning objectives, as well as skill development goals. They will be expected to harness abstract concepts and apply them to practical business contexts. Teaching is through thematic lectures, focused class discussions and simulated case study debate.

Mandatory prerequisites:

Requirements

International students are expected to have an initial awareness of ethics in the field of business, and to be at minimum at the stage of problem finding, with respect the place of ethics in society at large, as well as in business and commerce. They aim to actively develop their understanding of ethics in management philosophy and hone their ethical business decision-making skills. They agree to

Skills to acquire:

Race Objectives

This course was especially designed as an accelerated learning platform for students destining themselves for a career in upper management or higher responsibilities in other fields, seeking to gain a personal understanding of the concepts and logics underpinning ethical business practices. Students will gain theoretical insight into ethical philosophies and correlate these with relevant managerial imperatives in business decisions. They will also develop a professional skill-set with ethical value orientations and a prioritization of decision parameters. This will help them better define their own ethical management style, expressing vision and a unique leadership philosophy.

Learning Outcomes

Students will have the opportunity to deepen their intellectual understanding of ethics, and its growing role in business organizations. They will acquire the ability to assess ethical values at work within management decisions and analyze their empowerment in business methodologies. The more advanced achievers will structure key values into the business process, and creatively combine vital organizational goals with clear ethical orientations. Most students will gain a broad understanding of the stakes of ethics in international business, and be better able to contribute responsibly to achieving future employers' objectives in a distinctly

Required case study preparation, class discussion participation and independent research.

Graded 50% for collaborative group presentations and 50% for the individual final exam.

The numerical grade distribution will dictate the final grade. The passing grade for a course is 10/20.

Class participation: Active class participation – this is what makes classes lively and instructive. Come on time and prepared. Class participation is based on quality of comments, not quantity.

Exam policy: In the exam, students will not be allowed to bring any document (except if allowed by the lecturer). Unexcused absences from exams or failure to submit cases will result in zero grades in the calculation of numerical averages. Exams are collected at the end of examination periods.
