Other comments

- 1) All assignments must be submitted by the due date in order to receive full credit. Late submissions will not be accepted. However, you should still turn in late assignments so that you can receive feedback from the instructor.
- 2) Students must take all quizzes and exams at the scheduled time. There will be no make-ups, and a zero will be recorded for any quiz or exam that has been missed.
- 3) Attendance is required for absolutely all scheduled classes. If you are absent from class and don't provide a proper written document, your final grade will be affected.
- 4) If you are late for class, you will only receive half credit for the day's attendance.
- 5) Absolutely no cheating! If you cheat on a quiz or lesson test, you will get a grade of zero for that quiz or test. If you cheat on the final exam, you will fail the course and we will notify your home university about your academic dishonesty.
- 6) Classroom courtesy: Food, including chewing gum and candy, is prohibited in the classroom, but drinks are allowed. Unless you are sick, do not leave in the middle of the class. This will distract your instructor and classmates. Do not forget to turn off your cellular phone before class.
