GENDER, POLITICS AND MEDIA

Description

GPS is an under-graduate introductory course to the study of gender, politics, society, and media. This course introduces the key moments of the feminist politics, the core concepts and feminist theorising around gender, politics and media. During the course students become acquainted with gender-focused political research around core topics of the field.

Course completion

Attendance is mandatory and monitored. In case of absences extra assignments will be given to be submitted.

What is a course unit?

The degree consists of course units, whose learning objectives and contents are defined in the curriculum. For one course unit, usually one or several implementations (e.g. lecture courses, exams, seminars) are held during the academic year. Once the student has passed it, the student has attained the course unit and is given a grade.
